Class History

We, the class of 1951, do not have much history to record for it is difficult to write the history of a class when so much still lies ahead. We hope, in the years to come, there will be many volumes written about us. However, we do want to put on record a brief summary of our past experiences. We made our first appearance at Etowah School in August of 1939. Of the ones who started to school with us and who have remained for their senior year, there are: Bruce Banks, Hugh Boyd, D.C. Cantrell, Larry Hollingsworth, Ann Johnson, Russell Wilson, and Joan Robinson. Joan entered at Christmas the first year from Mars Hill and Bill Robertson came from Oakley School in the second grade.

Charles Capps came to us from Valley Springs in the fourth grade. In the fifth grade our class was divided since there were so many of us. Part of the class was in Mrs. Keller's room and part in Mrs. Comb's room that year. Bill Walker joined us from Fletcher.

In the sixth grade we were again divided with part in Mrs. Morgan's room and part in Mrs. Comb's room. Jack Kesterson joined our class in the seventh grade when we were all together again in Mrs. Stepp's room. Evelyn Moffitt and Helen Austin also joined us that year with Evelyn coming from Mills River and Helen coming from Leicester.

Very soon we found ourselves in the eighth grade although we were still a large class with forty enrolled. Mrs. Sitton was our home room teacher. Loyed Scott came into our class that year.

In our first year in High School Mr. Bruce was our home room teacher. We started singing in the Glee Club, joined the Science Club, and enjoyed a trip to the Champion Fiber Company at Canton with Mr. Sitton and Miss Jordan. Mr. Peek was our home room teacher in the tenth grade and we were really excited because we could choose the subjects we wanted to take. Some of us joined the F. H. A. and the F. F. A., played on the basketball team, and started taking French. There were only twenty-eight enrolled in our Sophomore year. Mrs. Corpening was our home room teacher when we were Juniors. There were only nineteen member of our class left. We enjoyed sponsoring a banquet at the Candlelight for the Seniors.

Last fall we found ourselves entering the last year of school. We were a class of four girls and fourteen boys. Not long after the school term was started we were faced with the problem of raising enough money to publish our annual. We decided to sell ads and we succeeded. Now we are looking forward to graduation and to the presentation of the Senior play.

With graduation close at hand we realize that we have spent the happiest days of our lives at Etowah School. We have made friendships that will not end with the completion of high school. As we leave, may we go with the promise to justify the faith which our teachers have placed in us. Let us accept the challenge which faces us and prove that we merit their faith.

Class Will

We, the class of 1951, in the town of Etowah, the county of Henderson, and the state of North Carolina, being of brilliant mind, and in much better temper than usual, do hereby make this, our last will and testament, rendering void any former will or wills made by us during a period of temporary optimism. We hope that you to whom we leave our possessions will appreciate them and that you will never forget our kindness and always remember what a wonderful class we were.

To the members of the Junior Class, our rightful heirs, so soon to take our place--not that they can fill it--we leave all our privileges and rights as Seniors, as well as any notebooks, pencils, unfinished popscicles, or unfinished business, including debts, also any boys or girls whom we may have left behind in our haste.

To our good friends, the Sophomores, we leave our patience. It will be found useful as the only means by which they can endure the Juniors.

To the young Freshman we leave a vast store of ideas which we had neither time nor opportunity to use. Some of them are excellent.

Tothe entire school we leave our fame and hope they won't let it die.

To Mr. Sitton we leave our best wishes for other years as happy as those he spent with us.

To the teachers we leave thanks for their patience and a suggestion for making their lives easier: less difficult lessons, not so many tests, and fewer rules to be obeyed.

Lastly, we have a few individual bequests to make.

I, Helen Austin, do will and bequeath my title as Beauty Queen of 1950 to Peggy Ann Baynard and my title as cutest girl to Shirley McCarson.

I, Evelyn Moffitt, do will and bequeath my title as neatest girl to Erline McCarson and my title as most likely to succeed to Lucille Moody.

I, Ann Johnson, do will and bequeath my best all around ways to Louise Gray and my brown eyes and curley hair to Louise Hendricks.

I, Joan Robinson, do will and bequeath my way of getting out of school work to Jane Chapman and my athletic ability to my sister Alene.

I, Connie Allison, do will and bequeath my skill in basketball to Bobby Steppe and my teasing ways to Joe Hensley.

I, Wilson Morgan, do will and bequeath my ability to type to Maudine Orr and my bass voice to Wayne Sumner.

I, Charles Capps, do will and bequeath my best all around ways to my brother Clifford and my red hair to Bobby Steppe.

I, Billie Walker, do will and bequeath my quietness to Dean McEntire and my bashful ways to David Nicholson.

I, Loyed Scott, do will and bequeath my dependability to Bruce Blythe and my fondness for farming to Boyce Gillespie.

I, Billy Robertson, do will and bequeath my title as class baby to Myra Sue Walker and ability to slip and smoke to Billy Wilson.

I, D. C. Cantrell, do will and bequeath my scholarly achievements to Virgle McClure and my ability to leave school at any time to Charles Arrington.

I, Russell Wilson, do will and bequeath my title as most handsome boy to Furman Gossett and my skill in basketball to Junior Owens.

I, Hugh Boyd, do will and bequeath my title as cutest boy to Claude Phillips and my ability to pass my work without studying to Bobby Steppe.

I, Larry Hollingworth, do will and bequeath my cheerful ways to Lucille Huggins and my brown eyes to Robert Chandler.

I, Bruce Banks, do will and bequeath my ability to get along with girls to Jimmy Moore and my title as neatest boy to Roger Whitesides.

I, Jack Kesterson, do will and bequeath my friendly ways to Gail Penland and my ability to sing to Earl Sumner.

I, Paul Baynard, do will and bequeath my title as most likely to succeed to Eldora Johnson and my kindness to Ellazene Crowder.

I, Everette Johnson, do will and bequeath my seriousness to Wilma Cantrell and my ability to read fast to Walter Bradley.

Class Prophecy

It is the year 1960 and a beautiful evening in October. Everywhere in the town of Etowah are huge posters reading, "Old Home Night". Many days ago, invitations were sent out to all former residents urging them to attend this wonderful entertainment tonight. All the talent for this program is strictly home talent. Every performer was at one time a resident of Etowah and was graduated from our high school.

The hour for the great event has arrived. Every seat in the vast new auditorium is filled. The platform is a mass of beautiful flowers.

Seated in the audience near me are many celebrities. As I look about me, I see a number of my classmates. There is Connie Allison now a famous lawyer. He could always crawl out of trouble, he should be able to get other people out of scrapes easily. Seated near him is Bruce Banks, a real estate dealer who owns so much property he has to keep a card index of it in order to know it himself.

Seated at one side, watching with interest, I see Miss Evelyn Moffitt. I ask about her and am told that she is the head mistress of a very fashionable girls' school and has never married although she has suitors innumerable. There is Charles Capps, our kind-hearted friend, who became very wealthy through wise investments. His money is paying for much of the Old Home Night expenditures.

Standing in the door, looking for old friends, I find Larry Hollingsworth, editor of the largest daily paper in the state, and very active politically. Two people, entering, receive a warm welcome from the committee at the door. They are Paul Baynard and Billie Walker who have just returned to the United States after inspecting our armed forces overseas.

The man just taking a seat by the window looks familiar but I can't tell who he is, Ah, he waves his hands around and talks excitedly. Now I know who he is-Hugh Boyd!. And what do you suppose he is? He is the A & P Supervisor of the whole Southern district.

A man is sketching the people as they come in and doing very well indeed. Of course you know who that is. Yes, it's Everette Johnson. They say he has become quite famous as an illustrator of magazine stories.

And now into the auditorium strolls Loyed Scott. He needs no introduction, for we all recognize him at once, the author of those new scientific books on farming. He sits beside Jack Kesterson, director of the forest rangers, who flew down from Washington, D. C., this afternoon just to be present tonight to meet with his old friends at Etowah.

Next comes Bill Robertson, owner of that new cigarette factory. He is on vacation now and says that he is letting his New York office take care of it-self while he is away.

And now the entertainment is to begin, there is a hushed expectancy. The lights in the auditorium fade and the footlights flash on. Before the packed house appears a dignified figure who makes an eloquent address of welcome. Some of the well-turned phrases sound pleasingly familiar. It is, indeed, Wilson Morgan. He is a well know radio announcer now. He acts as master of ceremonies and after his excellent speech introduces the performers.

But first he calls attention to the beautiful flowers and other decorations, saying that they were the gifts of D. C. Cantrell, now the leading florist of the town.

The master of ceremonies announces that after the entertainment refreshments will be served through the courtesy of Miss Joan Robinson, who is proprietor of the delightful Old Home Tea Room.

Now the entertainment proper begins, there is music and on the darkened stage in the spotlight appears Miss Helen Austin, the famous movie actress. She is more beautiful than ever and she tells us all about Hollywood and how she became famous.

Next is a famous musician who plays the most beautiful guitar solo for us. Yes, of course, it's Russell Wilson, and he plays even better than we always said he would. He has just returned from a concert tour in Europe.

The spotlight is shifted to the great auditorium organ, and the master of ceremonies introduces Miss Ann Johnson, now organist in a city church and teacher in an institute of organ music. She plays beautifully and looks not a day older than when she played in the school recital.

There are encores and then the entire audience rises, as the performers all appear on the stage at once. We all sing "AULD LANG SYNE" and adjourn for the promised refreshments from Joan's Old Home Tea Room.

It has been a real delight to see all our friends so young and prosperous, so generous of their money and talent. It has been an Old Home Night to be proud of and the old home folks should be happy to have such celebrities as these for their very own.
